Dr. Zillman and wife visited her father, W. J. Begard of Menkon, Sunday.

Mrs. Letitia Mauzey of Prairie chapel spent several days last with relatives in our midst.

C. H. Atterbury and wife of Mendon spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. J. L. Hise and family.

Miss Carrie Willett, our popular "school marm," spent Saturday and Sunday in Keytesville.

Some of our young people enjoyed a musicale at the home of Misses Mattie and Myrtle Elliott Thursday night.

Mrs. Charley Stoner and Mrs. Tom Lynch of near Edmond, Okla., came in Wednesday for a visit with relatives.

The G. A. R. lodge here gave a social fish-fry Wednesday, which was largely attended and greatly enjoyed by all.

Geo. P. Ross and wife of Westville spent last Saturday and Sunday with the latter's aunt, Mrs. C. A. Henderson.

Theodore Grass and son, Henry, of near Triplett attended services at the Catholic church here Sunday and were the guests of A. Senn.

Rev. Moser will occupy the pulpit at the Presbyterian church Saturday night and also Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. He is an able preacher and should be greeted with a well-filled house.

J. W. Mitchell, accompanied by his brother, Mathew Mitchell of Illinois who has been here visiting for some time, returned home Tuesday after spending several weeks in Kansas and Nebraska with relatives.

James Ringer of the firm of Ringer Bros. of this place, and who is also engaged in the real estate business at Edmond, Oklahoma, writes that he will be here about the 1st of November and will leave Brunswick on the 5th of November with a party of home-seekers for the Kiowa and Comanche country that was opened to settlement the past summer. He says their firm was locating people on these claims during the filing at El Reno and this gave them a thorough knowledge of that country which comprises some of the best lands ever opened to settlement, and hundreds of people filed on claims who will never return to live on them, and can now be bought at from $100 to $1,500, per quarter section. This seems like an opportunity of a lifetime, and young men and people who are not able to buy land here should certainly take advantage of it and get a home.

Aholt Afterthoughts.

November 1 all the young people of Aholt will receive the holy communion.

Saturday, November 2, the solemn commemoration of all souls departed will occur at the parish church.

Frank Grapperhaus may be detected daily in the early dawn wandering to his bucolic pursuits on the island.

About a dozen young people called at the parsonage Sunday evening and passed an agreeable hour or two with the pastor.

Geo. Oser and sisters and a gala party from Salisbury spent Sunday afternoon at Strackman's hospitable home in Howard.

The Aholt post-office is now in charge of H. J. Weber, who has also added many new articles to his stock not on hand heretofore.

Wednesday, October 30, Father Kearful and Henry Himmelberg and Misses Winnie Sneering and Mary Brandt visited Keytesville.

The first number of the "Aholt Banner," published in the interest of H. J. Weber's emporium of commerce at Aholt, appeared Wednesday, October 25.

Several parties drove over to Aholt from Howard county Sunday and remarked on the deserted appearance of the city, the usual crowd having business elsewhere.

Father Kearful and Rev. Waelterman and Rev. Hennes of Salisbury took dinner and spent a pleasant afternoon at Father Keuenhoff's in West Glasgow Wednesday.

Two distinguished clergymen, visitors from West Glasgow and New Franklin, called on Father Kearful Friday. Said gentlemen are in charge of parishes at the above points.

Sunday was the most pleasant day of the season and everybody seemed intent on visiting everybody else in the afternoon. Your scribe called at several residences, but found no one at home.

Thursday, October 31, occurs the vigil of all-saints day, and, according to the practice of the Catholics, is a fast-day. Friday, November 1, feast of all-saints special services will be held at the Catholic church.

John Aholt was button-holing friends last week to take chances in the raffle for the benefit of St. Francis Borgia's church at Washington, Mo. One hundred and twenty valuable prizes are promised to the lucky ticket-holders.

Rev. Father Peters spent a week recruiting his shattered health with his mother. The gentleman, his kindly mother and brother all stopped in for a short visit at the parsonage and then proceeded to Geo. Peters' new residence, where they spent an enjoyable day. Father Peters returned to his post at Jefferson City Friday.

Lagonda Lore.

Fishing is good. Hogs are selling at $5.50 per cwt.

Rufus Mulinix has his new house about completed.

The Lagonda Mercantile Co. is stocking up and business is keen.

John Chrisman sold 20 or more yearlings and calves to Delos Babbot.

Jerry Phillips of near Kaseyville was burned out, and John Chrisman is rebuilding his residence.

Chas. Warbritton, wife and two daughters came up from Howard county to visit friends and relatives after an absence of about two years.

The property known as the Boehm farm has again changed hands. Mr. Beauchamp has sold to a Mr. McCoy of Chicago. The fences are down and hurt the looks of the premises.

"The man in a one-horse buggy" passed through Lagonda wanting to buy horses weighing all of 1,600 pounds. He went north and next we heard of his capture by Mr. Asbury in Macon. Geo. Wooten lost a saddle and bridle the same day.

Triplett Topics.

John Kiddie was in Brunswick Monday.

Albert Wanger and wife will return to Salisbury to live, Albert having accepted a chair in Wm. Bonn's new barber shop.

H. S. Booth, an attorney of Centralia, Mo., was in our city Friday taking depositions in the case of Dobson vs. Dobson.

One of our attorneys has a big fat sty on his eye that causes that optic to look like 30 cents. He will dispose of it at reduced rates.

The suit of S. E. Payton vs. R. A. Patterson and Ben Griffin was tried in Judge Newbold's court Tuesday and decided in favor of plaintiff.

Frank Tannehill is closing out his mercantile business with a view to retiring in order to devote all his time to his postal delivery duties.

Dr. G. W. Lawhorn has brought suit against Chas. Heffke in Justice Mason's court for $220 damages for breach of contract in the sale of corn. The case is set for trial Friday, Nov. 8.

It is reported that the Baier Bros. will open a new butcher shop here. We now have two and whether another can stem the tide remains to be seen. They are nice boys and "born" butchers.

The protracted meeting at the C. P. church still continues with good interest. In order to accommodate the crowd services last Sunday night were held in the opera-house. Rev. Hobbs is a forceful speaker and handles sin without gloves. There has been a few additions to the church and quite a number going forward for prayers.

While returning from Sedalia Sunday, J. W. Cooper was put off a "Katy" train near Fayette. On leaving Sedalia his ticket to Moberly was taken up by the conductor, and at New Franklin Junction a new conductor came on and demanded fare. Mr. C. advised that his ticket had been taken up and proved it, but all to no purpose. The ticket puncher stopped the train and with help carried Mr. Cooper off the train and deposited him in a cornfield a mile and a half from Fayette. He will sue the company and "make it hot" for them, to use his own language.

dy experience, now realizes what a close call she had from being visited by the coroner, and won't take part in any more such perilous feats. She, however, has not yet run the gauntlet of the fool-killer and is not out of danger of giving the coroner a job.

A PECULIAR accident befell Mrs. R. M. Brockett of Kansas City recently. While shopping in one of the stores of the city she stepped on a parlor match, which ignited and set fire to her clothing. One of the business men of the firm hurried to her assistance, and his hands were severely burned while extinguishing the flames, but the lady was not much hurt.

LEON CZOLGOSZ, the foul assassin of President Wm. McKinley, was electrocuted at Auburn prison, N. Y., 12 1-2 minutes past 7 o'clock Tuesday morning. He went to his death sullen and unrepentant, and said he killed Mr. McKinley because he was an enemy to "the good working people." Czolgosz remains were consumed with sublime and acid and were buried within the walls of Auburn prison.
